

Cybersecurity Is The Top Priority For CIOs In 2022

The threats posed by cybercrime are constantly evolving, and as a result, Cyber/Information security emerged as the top priority on the to-do list of CIOs.

High Priority Projects In 2022

Deemed securing the remote workforce and risk-based vulnerabilities are the two most priorities in 2022

Considered automating threat detection and response a priority

Stated enhancing cybersecurity testing beyond pen-testing as a top priority

Listed unify threat visibility across all assets as a top priority

Lumu technologies

Secondary Concerns To Concentrate

are aiming to acquire cyber insurance on their to-do list

declared outsourcing cybersecurity management

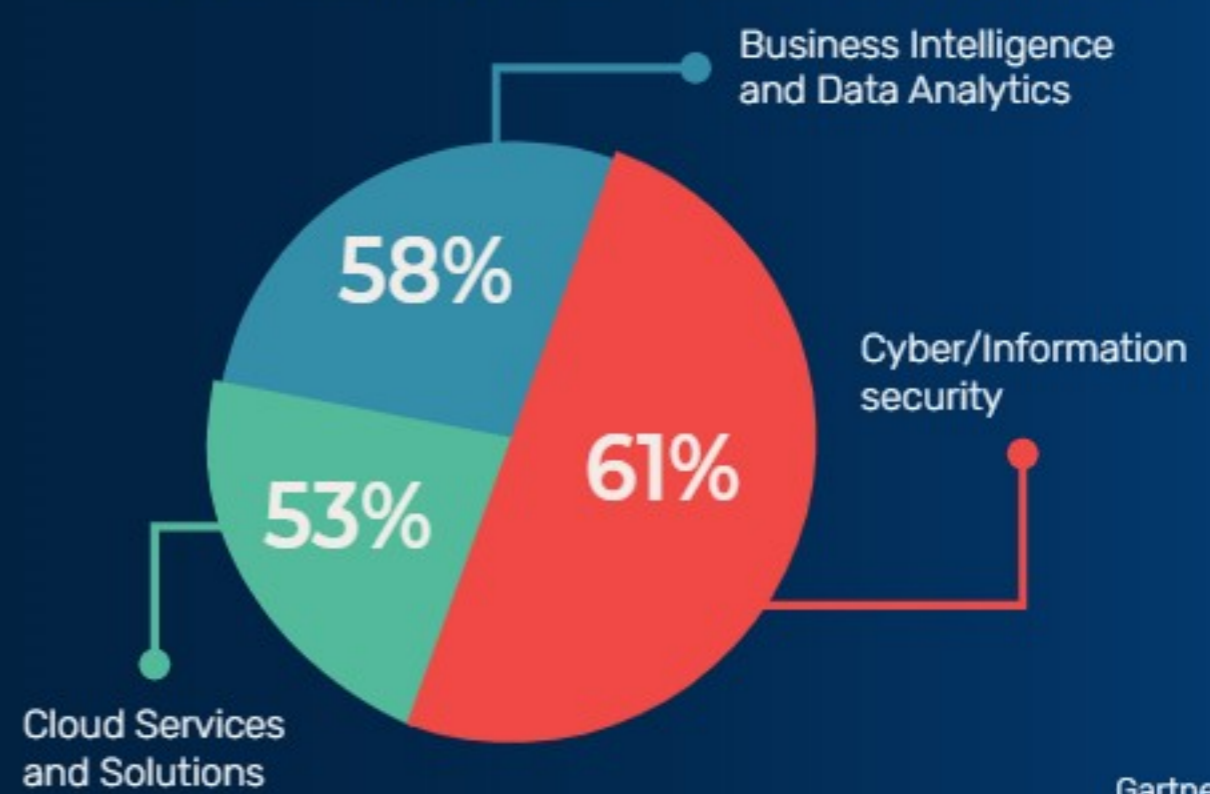

consider supply chain risk assessment urgent

Lumu technologies

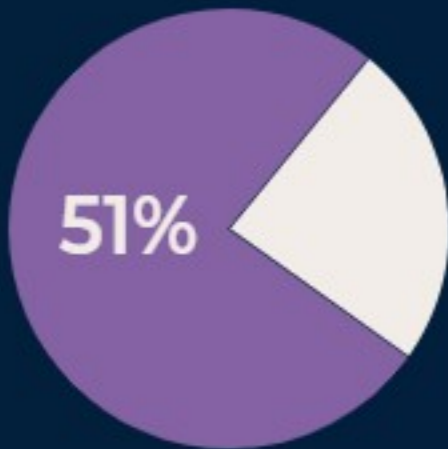

Where Are CIOs Spending Their IT Budget?

CIOs are Continuing to Prioritize Security Investments

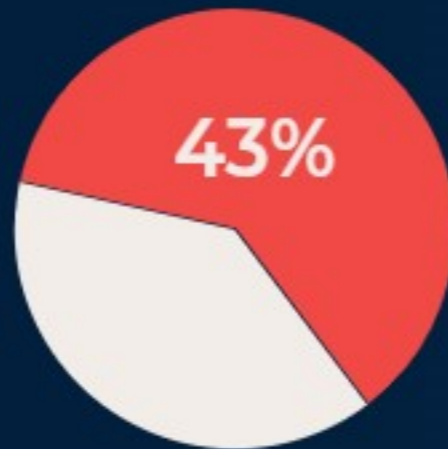

Gartner

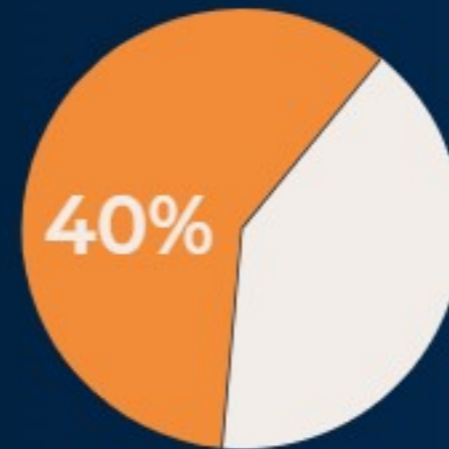

Activities CIOs Are Currently Focusing On:

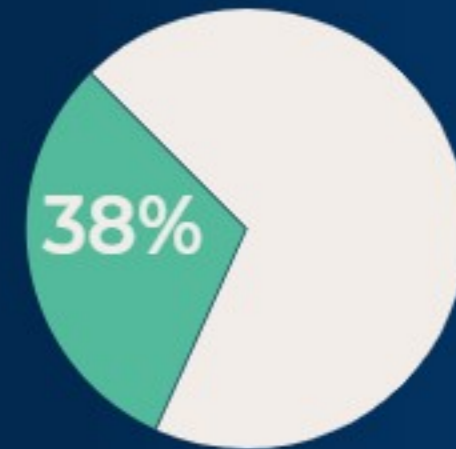

Security Management

Improving IT Operations/Systems Performance

Modernizing Infrastructure and Applications

Aligning IT Initiatives with Business Goals

IDGEXSumm2022

Activities CIOs Plan To Spend More Time On:

Driving Business Innovation

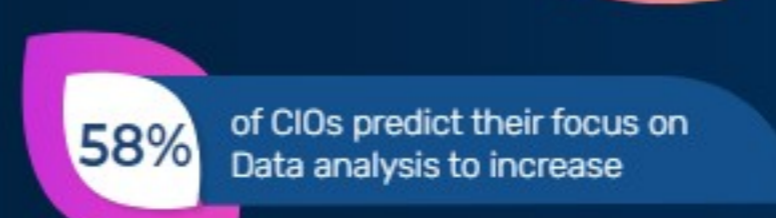

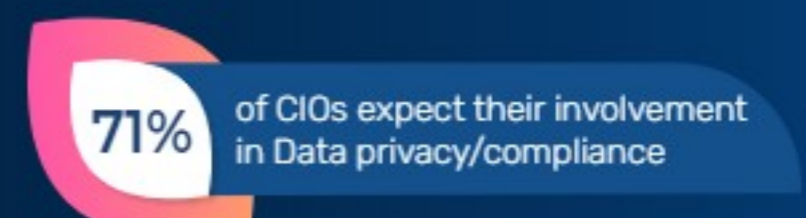

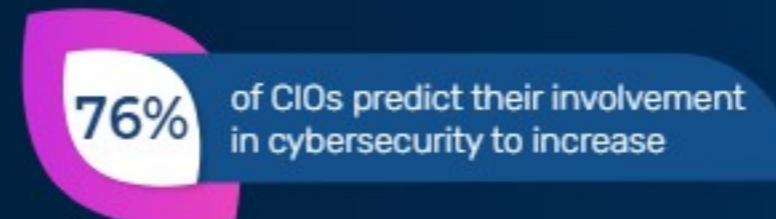

Security Management

Developing and Refining Business Strategy

IDGEXSumm2022

The CIO Role Is Changing - Here's What's On The Horizon:

IDGEXSumm2022

Overall, it's clear that cybersecurity is a top priority for CIOs. Implementing effective measures today can help defend your organization against tomorrow's threats.

Indusface is the Only Vendor To Be Named Gartner® Peer Insights™ Customers' Choice in All the 7 Segments of Voice of Customer WAAP 2022 Report.

Protect Your Digital Assets
indusface.com

Get Started for Free